

With the ever changing and competitive political climate in California, agriculture must take a lead role in influencing public policy and the resulting business climate. California Farm Bureau Federation has created a grass-roots mobilization program, the Farm Team, to ensure agriculture's voice is heard.

The Farm Team will organize Farm Bureau members to rapidly respond via the internet when agricultural interests are at risk. Farm Team members will be mobilized to respond to legislative proposals, provide candidate support during campaigns and hold legislators accountable for their actions.

The Farm Team serves as a vehicle for members to remain informed and respond to important issues affecting their businesses with the easy click of a mouse.

With your support, the Farm Bureau will expand its role as an influential organization in California. The upcoming election year will be crucial; have your voice heard – visit cbbf.com today and click on the Farm Team to become a subscriber.
